Three new priests ordained by Archbishop Bernard Longley at St Chad's Cathedral

Friends, family, clergy and well-wishers filled the Cathedral on Saturday 20 July to witness this momentous day for Frs Marco Egawhary, Ryan Service and John Waters, who have been studying at the Venerable English College, Rome.

During the ordination rite, the candidates promise 'to celebrate the mysteries of Christ, faithfully and religiously... for the glory of God and the sanctification of Christ's people.'

The newly ordained priests celebrated their first Masses on Sunday 21 July: Fr Marco – The Oratory Church of St Aloysius Gonzaga, Oxford; Fr Ryan – St Mary of the Angels, Aldridge; and Fr John – Precious Blood and All Souls, Coventry.

They will offer support to parishes over the summer and return to Rome for one final year of study before returning to diocesan parishes full time.

For all three, the support of the diocese and their parish placements have been pivotal in their journey.

Fr Ryan Service said: "Doing the placements back home in the parishes in the diocese has really helped to keep a sense of where we're going and where we've come from in terms of our vocation."

Fr John Water said: "At last we'll get to do what we've spent all these years training for and preparing for. We've received so much and at last we can start giving this back."

Fr Marco Egawhary said: "I hope the people of the diocese see it as not just our ordination, but a moment for them as well because we couldn't have got through without their support."

Our Lady's & St Peter's

The Stations Of The Cross are generally associated with Lent because, from early Christianity, pilgrims went to Jerusalem during Holy Week to walk and pray the Way of the Cross. This became impossible as Christianity grew around the world and so the Stations became a local devotional practice in churches, with pictures or carvings around the church. To help us meditate on the tremendous faithfulness Jesus had to truth, love and justice, the devotion of the Stations of the Cross, led by Kate Tennyson, will be practiced on the first Friday of every month at 7.30 pm, at St Peter's. The next Stations of the Cross devotion is this Friday, 2 August.

St Peter's Toddler Group is now on its summer break. It will start again on Friday 13 September.

Dormer Senior Citizens' Afternoon Tea will be held on Saturday 3 August in St Peter's Church Hall from 2.00 pm. Do join us for an afternoon of fun and friendship – with bingo, raffle and prizes. No booking or membership, just turn up and make new friends. It is non-denominational and open to everyone.
