Who is shee that assends so high
Next the Heavenly Kinge,
Round about whome angels flie
And her prayses sing?

Who is shee that, adorned with light,
Makes the sunne her robe,
At whose feete the queene of night
Layes her changing globe?

To that crowne direct thine eye
Which her heade attyres;
There thou mayest her name discerie
Wrytt in starry fires.

This is he in whose pure wombe
Heaven's Prince remained;
Therefore no earthly tombe
Can shee be contained.

Heaven shee was, which held that fire
Whence the world tooke light,
And to heaven doth now aspire,
Flames with flames to unite.

Shee that did so clearly shine
When our day begunne,
See, how bright her beames decline
Now shee sytts with the sunne

Sir John Beaumont (1583-1627)
